It's good

My suggestion would be Institute should Provide hands on experience, Better Good

I don't think there's anything I can say.

They inculcate not only theoretical knowledge but also the practical knowledge. Can be or should be more practical for learning

I think not all but a few teachers should treat the students equally and don't keep grudges against them. It affects the internal marks of the student and thus makes the overall result poor.

1. Student-Teacher bond on a somewhat personal level to promote better understanding.

Use better graphics and visual media in ppt to engage students well.

Should focus on practical learning and skills improvement program with given syllabus. All good

Implement active learning strategies, provide regular feedback and support, and incorporate technology for enhanced engagement.
